Zooming/Chatting/Roaming:

Today, I decided to run a Zoom chat for the ones who didn't want to venture out in the rain & make a trip up to the Radio Club.

I ended up having Chris ACD, Roger LRB, Shane HAZ & Duncan DLR online.

Duncan was actually at the club rooms, he had with him today, Dick WV, Paul PMG, Jeff FJRN & Andrew, then Ross ARD turning up a bit later.

Duncan also logged in with his phone so he could do a little bit of “Zoom-Roaming” whilst walking around, showing the rest of us some of Jeff's DC setup in the back of his 4x4 as well as his ATAS (ant) setup including a protection barrier that Jeff printed on his 3D Printer (see photo below-3rd photo)

I did some screenshots on my computer & I have attached them below so we can all see what DLR was sharing with us via Zoom...

Cheers, Dave ZDR

DIGITAL Report:

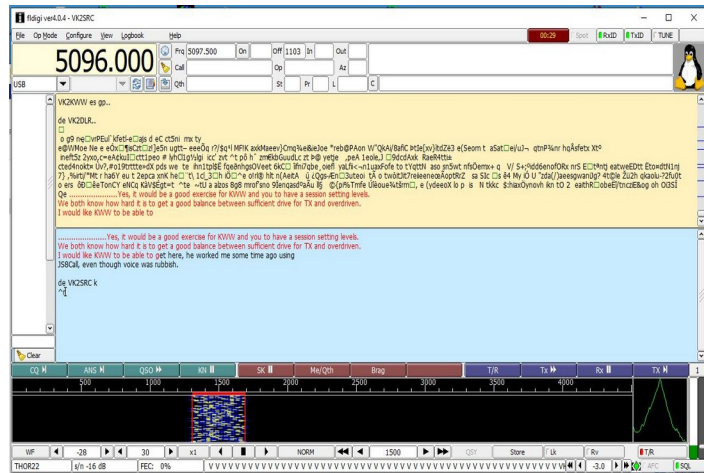

TUESDAY 21 JULY, 2020

For tonight's Digi Net Paul as VK2SRC was joined by Leith VK2EA, John VK2JWA, Pat VK2FAAD, Duncan VK2DLR, Kris VK2KWW, Dave VK2ZDR and Rob VK2ELH on his way to work. A pretty good rollup, Dave sounded croaky and didn't take any active part. Everyone else had their two normal rounds of chat before Duncan and Kris QSY'd with me to our normal frequency of 144.230 USB.

We used F1 Digi again and Thor 22 mode as I was keen to see Kris receiving / transmitting / decoding. Duncan did hear Kris but I had great trouble hearing his transmission. Duncan did hear him, better radio path. That left Duncan and I to continue. After the net finished I received a message that Kris had decoded everything that Duncan and I transmitted. That was a good start as it just meant that the rig was not modulating, and that should be easier to fix.

On Saturday 25th Kris and I spent about 15 minutes on 144.230 USB again, this time with the SSB button on Kris's 9700 held down for 2 or 3 seconds to engage "D" mode, for without that being engaged, Icoms will not modulate digital on TX. Full decode on TX and RX between us, with good voice signals also, so that was a relief. A good net, thanks to all who logged in and participated. The net finished at 10.20pm.

Cheers from Paul VK2PMG
